

Joachim Lehmann

Chief Financial Officer
Röchling Medical

Joachim Lehmann joined the Röchling Group in 2003, initially as assistant to the management board of Röchling Industrial Lahnstein, after his commercial apprenticeship and gaining experience in various functions in finance and accounting, financial controlling and group consolidation.

In 2004, he took over the role of Head of Controlling, which later also included Head of Financial Accounting, and was appointed as Commercial Managing Director in 2011.

The expansion of the Röchling Group to include medical technology plastics, Joachim Lehmann became in addition to his role also Commercial Director of a acquired medical technology company, until he took over the overall management of Röchling Medical Solutions Brensbach in May 2012.

The appointment was made in April 2017 as the Director Business Unit Medical Plastics Europe, with responsibility for Finance, Administration and Legal, Sales & Marketing, Project Management, Industrialization and Development.

In February 2022, Joachim Lehmann was appointed as CFO and member of the Executive Board of Röchling Medical SE.